Threat of Severe Weather Leads To Cancellation
For Inmate Visiting At Some DOC Prisons

Frankfort, Ky. (January 21, 2016) – Due to the threat of severe winter weather, weekend visitation has been canceled at some state prisons.

Prison officials will evaluate the weather on a daily basis and will return to the regular operating schedule as soon as weather permits. Visitors are encouraged to check the Kentucky Department of Corrections Facebook page and twitter feed for updated information.

The below prisons have canceled visitation.

Luther Lockett Correctional Complex – Canceled Friday night, Saturday and Sunday

Kentucky State Reformatory – Canceled Friday and Saturday; Sunday is currently scheduled and any changes will be announced on DOC's Facebook page and on local news stations.

Roederer Correctional Complex – Canceled Friday night, Saturday and Sunday

Kentucky Correctional Institution for Women – Canceled Saturday and Sunday

Blackburn Correctional Complex – Canceled Saturday

Visitation at the other state prisons is still scheduled at this time and any changes will be announced on DOC's Facebook Page and through local media outlets.
